FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT.

FIFTEEN months have elapsed since our last report was given to the public. As it seemed expedient to hold our annual meeting in January instead of October as heretofore, Article 7th of the Constitution was amended by vote of the Association, and our fiscal year henceforth begins January 1st.

As we review our work during these months of business and financial depression—a season of unusual trial to working-women, and extraordinary demands upon our Association—we acknowledge with grateful hearts, “Hitherto hath the Lord helped us,” and, with a deep sense of the “goodness and mercy which has followed us” since the day of our organization, we enter upon another year with renewed vigor in the prosecution of the work which the Master has committed to us.

BOARDING HOUSE, 1605 FILBERT STREET.

Our work in this department convinces us more fully each year of the need of establishing other boarding houses. We can receive only forty boarders, and the number of applicants whom we are compelled to refuse proves how many working-women of our city are without comfortable homes. The requirements for admission are, that the applicant shall be under twenty-five years of age; without a protector in the city; supporting herself, or being fitted to do so; must furnish two references for respectability, and her weekly income must not exceed six dollars. The terms for board are $2.50 or $3.00 per week, with an extra charge of thirty-eight cents for washing and ironing. Our family has been a very happy one; instances are comparatively rare where there has been any serious disregard of rules. We have had a few cases of sickness; to these Dr. Osgood and Dr. Keen have attended most faithfully, and we desire to acknowledge our grateful appreciation of their gratuitous services. The daily family worship and the weekly Bible class, to which all the boarders are cordially invited, are generally well attended. The occasional "home evening," when one or more of our managers provide a social entertainment for the girls, is always enjoyed. At these times we not only become acquainted with our boarders, but are able to impress them with our sympathy in their enjoyment, as well as in their sorrow, and thus gain the influence over them so needful in our work. The cases of dismissal are rare, and seldom does any one leave us without expressing gratitude for the home she has here enjoyed. This house continues, as heretofore, self-supporting, and since our last report has had two special donations: one thousand dollars from Miss Susan Gorgas, of West Chester, Pa., and five hundred from the executors of the estate of Jesse George. These sums have been placed at interest, and will hereafter be used in extinguishment of the ground rent.

This department of our work has always been a pleasant one, for there is ever a greater satisfaction in preventing evil than in its remedy. This is the aim of our influence over these young and unprotected girls: to warn them of danger, to strengthen them against the bewildering temptations that beset their paths, and to urge them, not only to avoid the evil, but to choose and hold fast the good. Their testimony, given on various occasions, encourages us to believe that this effort has, in many instances been successful. Not long since, in listening to a story of temptation, of unsuspected snares set for unwary feet, the recital ended thus: "How can I ever be grateful enough for this home! but for the influences of this house, I should have listened to the tempter, and but for your helping hand, I should have been lost." Surely there is cause for loving watchfulness and earnest prayer that they may be kept "from the evil."

139 AND 141 NORTH SEVENTH STREET.

The improvements in this building made last year have greatly facilitated our work in this department. Each day the capacity of our dining-room is fully tested. Young women from the neighboring factories, as well as from the stores in the vicinity, and indeed, representatives of every branch of female industry, find their way to our rooms between the hours of 11 and 3, where a cheap yet wholesome meal can be obtained. The benefit to many a one has been apparent to the ladies in charge, who, from their frequent personal contact, become interested in the moral as well as the temporal welfare of these struggling ones, to whom the lines have fallen in anything but pleasant places, and whose heritage is oftentimes that of want and weariness.

The additional lodging-rooms have proved a welcome benefit, affording rest and shelter to hundreds who, but for the strength thus gained, might have strayed into evil ways. Since the date of our last report, we have furnished 54,595 meals and 3,102 lodgings. In numerous cases meals and lodgings have been furnished gratuitously.

LIBRARY AND READING-ROOM.

This is a new feature of our work, and already one of great importance. For a long time it had been manifest to the Dining-room Committee that some resort for mental recreation and culture should be accessible, not only to the young women coming to our rooms for their mid-day meal, with the remnant of the hour to spare, but for all women with time and means too limited to avail themselves of the benefits of our city libraries. This Committee requested that they might be hereafter recognized as the Library and Reading-room Committee, and assumed the responsibility of the undertaking. An appeal to the friends of the Association for books, periodicals, &c., which should form the nucleus of a library, met with a prompt and generous response, and we have now catalogued and arranged in neat bookcases in our Association Hall, about 1000 volumes, and are in receipt of several monthlies, newspapers from all parts of the country, and a Christian weekly from Glasgow, Scotland.

The reading-room is open daily from 12 to 3, and free to any young woman who will give the name of her employer or some other responsible person, certifying her right to its privileges; 170 names have been registered in the librarian's book since April 1st, 1875.

EMPLOYMENT COMMITTEE.

The work of this Committee has been continued without interruption during the year; they have the constant services of a secretary, and some member of the Committee is in attendance daily. Applications for help are received, and situations of every kind are procured for those applying. The plan of registration enables them to secure reliable reference, so that only those who are worthy are received as applicants, and the result is, that the office is becoming the resort of the more respectable classes. A marked improvement is also found in the increased number of persons seeking a higher order of employment, and the demand for those able to fill positions requiring skilled and educated labor; on the books are registered the names of copyists, book-keepers, clerks, companions, teachers of languages, type-setters, &c., and in many cases positions have been obtained where mutual satisfaction has been given, although the depressed state of business renders it difficult to supply the need of all. It is not strange, it is but natural, that many a tale of sorrow and extreme distress falls upon the ears of the ladies of this Committee; their hearts are frequently deeply touched and their tenderest sympathies enlisted, and we trust that through their instrumentality some are saved from crime and degradation, others are aided in their efforts to rise to nobler lives, and all are cheered and encouraged in the great battle of life. A short extract from one of the monthly reports of this Committee may be of interest: "Last week a man came in, almost despairing; he sobbed like a child, as he told his story. Wounded in the service of his country, and thereby incapacitated for hard labor, he could find no employment by which to support his family; he had friends with whom he had found a home, and his wife had been with her relatives in a distant city, but, becoming a Protestant, they were unwilling that she should remain longer, and she came with her babe to find her husband, who had no home for them; they had not tasted food for forty hours. Their immediate wants were supplied, and the next day a situation was found for the woman, with the privilege of retaining her child, in the family of a clergyman out of town. She is there now, in a pleasant, Christian home, as she writes in a letter to her husband, which he read to us with delight, and with many, many thanks."

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

Since our last report we have had a class in Telegraphy, under the care of a competent teacher; also, a class in which dressmaking and all kinds of plain sewing were thoroughly taught. It was found necessary to discontinue these classes during the summer months, but they will be resumed whenever the demand is sufficiently urgent.

VISITING COMMITTEE.

It has become necessary to enlarge this Committee, to meet the constantly increasing demands upon it. During the year they have maintained their stated visits to the inmates of Moyamensing Prison, House of Correction, University Hospital, Wills' Hospital for Diseases of the Eye, the Industrial Home for Blind Women, and the Almshouse. In our own Boarding House, a weekly Bible class is held, under their auspices, which is well attended, and has shown evidences of the Divine favor and blessing in the conversion of some who attend it. Possibly the individual workers in this department have a more varied experience than in any other; certainly, from their own account, the recompense they receive in the prosecution of their labor of love is fully equal to any sacrifice involved. Wherever they go, they are warmly welcomed, and listened to with eagerness. Especially do they mention the House of Correction and Wills' Hospital. In the former are found the most abandoned, those upon whom, humanly speaking, it would seem impossible to make any impression; yet even here they find hearts that melt under a Saviour's love, and yearnings for better, nobler lives. The Sabbath services at Wills' Hospital are well attended and deeply interesting. One of the committee writes: "All join delightedly in singing familiar hymns, and there is perfect stillness during the reading of the Scriptures and prayer. Many have given evidence of the power of the Holy Spirit, and express pleasure and gratitude for the public service. This is supplemented by week-day visitations, which are also highly gratifying. Owing to the constant changes among the inmates of this institution, seeds can only be scattered and left to be watered and spring up, perhaps, under other hands.

But the visits of this Committee are not confined to public institutions; they also find their way among the destitute, the sick, and the afflicted, endeavoring to do something to lessen the sorrows of humanity. "The poor ye have with you always," they find abundantly verified, and in meeting the various needs of those they visit, they ever strive to carry Christ with them, and offer Him as the healer of every woe.

SEA-SIDE HOUSE.

Our Sea-Side House, located at Asbury Park, New Jersey, was formally opened to the public August 4th, 1874. This was only the rear wing of the building, in which we could accommodate but twenty-one boarders. During the past summer, the number of applicants, amounting to three hundred, so far exceeded the capacity of our building that it was decided to enlarge it early in the autumn. We were encouraged to do this by receiving the generous donation from Mr. James A.

Bradley, of New York, of the lot of land adjoining the one he had previously given us, and which we were occupying, thus giving us in front 150 feet, and the same in depth.

Estimated plans showed that for $6,000 we could complete a building that would accommodate eighty boarders. The result of our financial effort has been most encouraging. A donation of $1,000 from Mr. Andrew Carnegie, of New York, was speedily supplemented, the needed sum pledged, and the addition is nearly completed. This will contain forty-one rooms; on the first floor, a hall twelve feet wide, a parlor thirty feet square, an office or reception room, and nine bed rooms. A stairway four feet in width leads to the second story, where there are thirty chambers. The piazzas will extend around three sides of the house on the first and second stories, affording altogether a walk of over two hundred feet on each floor. The house will be ready for occupancy early in June. The requirements for admission here are but two: that the applicant be dependent upon her own exertions, and of respectable character. The terms are $3 per week. This house is also self-supporting.

We desire to acknowledge here the continued interest and liberality of Mr. Bradley in this department of our labor.

There is no other feature of the work which seems to yield such immediate and happy results. Our hearts are gladdened by seeing the thorough enjoyment of the luxury of rest to overtasked working women; and they are made happier, healthier, and we trust better, women in their sojourn by the sea. We have here, too, the influences of a Christian home in the daily family worship, and we have reason to be assured that while the physical strength of the inmates was being renewed, the truly religious atmosphere which their souls breathed gave comfort and peace and strength. We received many expressions of gratitude from those who were there. One who was for several weeks a happy recipient of the benefits of the place, after acknowledging the divine inspiration which called the home into existence, wrote: "The great Head of the Church will, in His own good time, reward you for your work of faith and labor of love. It is the joy of Asbury Park! Upon all its surroundings it seems as if the doxology was written, 'Praise God from whom all blessings flow!'

"FAITH AND WORKS."

We have long felt the need of some medium of communication with the public, which should enable us to bring before it the aim and details of our work more thoroughly than can be done in the small space allotted to our Annual Report. Many are desirous of hearing oftener and more fully what the Association is doing, and it is to accomplish this result that we have undertaken the publication of our monthly paper, "Faith and Works."

Nor is this the only object we have had in view. All over the land kindred associations are doing a noble work, which needs to find expression, and we trust our paper will be a means of extending a more thorough knowledge of "Women's Christian Associations" everywhere, and the glorious work given them to do. And as to know it is to love it, many more will be made to feel that, as women, they cannot stand idle while so many other women need a helping hand.

Already several numbers of "Faith and Works" have gone before the public, and the cordial welcome they have received gives us cause for gratitude, as well as courage to go forward in this work of promoting knowledge, and stimulating zeal in those who feel interested in the cause of associated Christian work for women. Our paper is edited by Miss J. P. Cattell, and published on the 15th of each month, at one dollar per annum, in advance. All communications are to be addressed to "Faith and Works," No. 141 North Seventh street.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE.

We cannot close our report without reference to the International Conference of Women's Christian Associations, held at Pittsburgh on the 12th of October last.

This occasion brought together the most experienced workers from over forty associations, and the best thoughts of these women were evoked for the benefit of the whole. Every phase of Christian work was thoroughly canvassed, the obstacles which stand in the way of progress carefully considered, and the result must be, enlarged views, clearer perception, and maturity of judgment, which could not be attained by the continued labors of isolated associations. An interesting paper upon Reformatory Work was presented by the London Association, and Christian greetings were received from France, Switzerland, Holland, Austria, and Rome. It was a season of peculiar interest. Woman's work for woman assumed an almost overwhelming breadth in the minds of those who were thus brought together. There is so much to be done, and this friendly contact develops the way for the accomplishment of great results.

It is with heartfelt sorrow that we record the first break made by death in our Board of Managers since our organization. Our valued friend and efficient co-worker, Miss Annie Morris, passed to her reward on the 11th of March, 1875. We miss her ready sympathy and zealous coöperation, but we know that our loss is her gain. "She rests from her labors, and her works do follow her."

In concluding this statement, we desire to express our gratitude to those who have shown themselves friends indeed of our Association, in contributing so generously toward the maintenance and extension of our work. Each year has found us at its close with some new project in successful operation.

We will still press on, believing that the Lord will incline His people to aid us in the future as in the past, and that this branch of His work will not be suffered to languish.
